

Town of Elk Point brings down their 1998 budget

Lower mill rates for residential, farm land and improved non-residential property and higher assessments were announced last Monday night as the Town of Elk Point set their 1998 mill rate and approved their annual capital budget.

All three readings were given to the bylaw setting the Residential and Farm Land mill rates at 16.924 mills, down from 19.537 in 1997, Apartment and 4-Plexes at 33.399 mills, up slightly from last year's 32.859, Non-Residential — Improvements and Linear at 28.417 mills, down from 31.506, Non-Residential — Vacant at 28.681 mills, up from 26.774 last year, M.D. of St. Paul Foundation up from 19.350 to 19.592 mills, and Machinery and Equipment at 20.337 mills, up from 20.218 mills.

Alberta School Foundation Fund requisitions were down in all categories, and were eliminated entirely from the Machinery and Equipment tax. The Municipal Operations portion dropped in Residential and Farm Land and Non-Residential — Improvements and Linear categories. It rose from 22.619 to 23.816 for Apartments and 4-Plexes, and from 12.329 to 15.966 on Non-Residential — Vacant property. The biggest hike in Municipal Operations was for Machinery and Equipment, where it rose from 10.146 to 17.114 mills, swallowing up the amount saved on the School Foundation Fund exemption.

Special levies of one mill continue for Water and Sewer Replacement Reserve, Pavement Capital Reserve and Equipment Capital Reserve, while the Ambulance Service Reserve allotment decreased from .178 to .113 mill, and the M. D. of St. Paul Foundation Reserve decreased from .124 to .110 mill.

As a result of a complete general assessment, the Town's total assessment is now $48,159,390, up $6 million from last year.

In other Council business, the Town will be applying for a Municipal 2000 Sponsorship grant, which they hope to use for their new computer system.

In approving a series of Canada Day Committee requests for parade route closure and moving of bleachers, Council also gave thought to entering a Town float in the Canada Day parade, and decided that as time is short, they may use one of the Town trucks for this purpose. They have also been invited to take part in Bonnyville's Canada Day parade on the evening of July 1.

Business coming from the Public Works Committee meeting included a look at fencing the West Cemetery at a future time, approval of an increase in cost for

THE SALT OF THE EARTH -- The Canadian Salt Company Limited's Lindbergh facility celebrated its 50th anniversary last Wednesday with an open house where plaques were presented and good wishes expressed before a hearty lunch was served and tours of the plant were taken. At left, MLA Paul Langevin presented one of the plaques to Facility Manager Ken Palamarek, while above, worker Bill Zapesocki shows tour participants how ice control salt for roads is produced at the plant.

Canadian Salt celebrates fifty years in Lindbergh

Canadian Salt Company Limited celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their Lindbergh facility last week, with a huge crowd on hand for the commemorative ceremonies and tours of the plant.

The plant was built in 1948, after Anglo Canadian Oil discovered a thick salt bed and natural gas deposit while looking for oil in the area in 1946. Office manager Tom Melnyk, who emceed last Wednesday's anniversary gathering, said that these resources, along with the ample supply of water from the North Saskatchewan River and the nearby railway line made this the perfect location for salt production. In the beginning, the plant produced 125 tons of salt per day, using 1.4 million gallons of water in the process. As a byproduct, they produced 9600 kilowatt hours of electricity, to power both the plant and the adjacent townsite. He noted that at that time, when extra power was expended to operate the salt block press, "all the lights dimmed."

Melnyk, who has worked at the plant for 38 years, said the Lindbergh facility incorporated the first salt fusing process in North America back in 1950.

The plant now has six brine wells to extract salt from the immense bed 3725 feet below the earth's surface and has 20 gas wells to provide steam and electricity needed to produce 450 tonnes per day. The household, industrial, agricultural, water softening and ice control salt produced go to markets in the prairie provinces, BC and the Northwest Territories. Canadian Salt Company Limited has other plants in Belle Plaine, Saskatchewan, Windsor, Ontario and Pugwash, Nova Scotia.

Thomas Kondla, Local 474 president for the Communications, Energy and Paper Workers Union of Canada, said this is the 47th year of union at the site, and this has resulted in "many positive results" for both union and non-union employees. Unions are "as important as ever," he noted, and said "the secret to our success is to always agree with the company, even if we agree to disagree. We settle our differences and move on."

County of St. Paul councillor Allan Young is a former Salt Plant employee, who said the plant "has made a very valuable contribution to the area, both in employment and taxes." He presented a commemorative plaque to Facility Manager Ken Palamarek.

Town of Elk Point councillor Bill Schuhmacher has "only been here 35 years," and said Canadian Salt was well established when he came. "It was one of the reasons we moved to Elk Point." He

Chamber to explore community assets

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce will learn about community capacity building and asset mapping at this Wednesday's meeting, when Jim MacLellan will report on a workshop he recently attended on behalf of the Interagency Health Committee.

The workshop was based on the concept that everyone has a talent or gift, and that often these talents lay dormant until a connection is made. The community, instead of searching for "needs" could search for abilities and thereby develop relationships which fill the community's needs.

Also on Wednesday's agenda will be planning for the Canada Day Pancake Breakfast, which will be held July 1 from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. Volunteers are needed for setup, during the breakfast and for cleanup.

The Chamber meets at the Empress banquet room at 12:00 noon and all business people are invited to bring a friend.

called fifty years "a major milestone," and noted that many workers stayed with the plant for forty years. A show of hands indicated that numerous people in the audience had been present at the original opening ceremonies for the plant.

MLA Paul Langevin noted that the salt industry in Alberta started in the 1920s in Fort McMurray, with the Lindbergh plant coming on stream in 1948. "It is a world class facility, a good stable company and a real plus to the economy. It is important to have a very stable company... the whole economy of the province is sustained." He also presented a plaque to Palamarek.

Letters of congratulations were received from MP Leon Benoit, who applauded "the tremendous contribution to the economy, and consistent records of efficiency and safety," and from Ed Stelmach, Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development.

Elk Point Mayor Ed Buck was at the plant's original opening, and remembered the building of the railroad siding which was used to bring in the first oil rig seen in the area. This created "quite a buzz in the community — now there's oil all around." Buck said the salt plant was built to recoup the money spent on the siding. Buck's parents owned a hotel in Heinsburg at the time, and he recalls the plant's construction workers coming into Heinsburg on the train on Friday nights. "It's hard to believe how long it's been here and what it has done for the community. Think how many families came here because of the plant. The plant provides a very vital part of our economy."

He spoke of the support and involvement Canadian Salt has given to the community, and noted, as he presented him with a plaque, that Facility Manager Ken Palamarek continues this tradition by serving as Elk Point's volunteer fire chief. Palamarek welcomed all in attendance and urged everyone to have a look at the displays of photos and products. "The displays in our Hall of History will bring back fond memories for many, and newcomers will get informed."

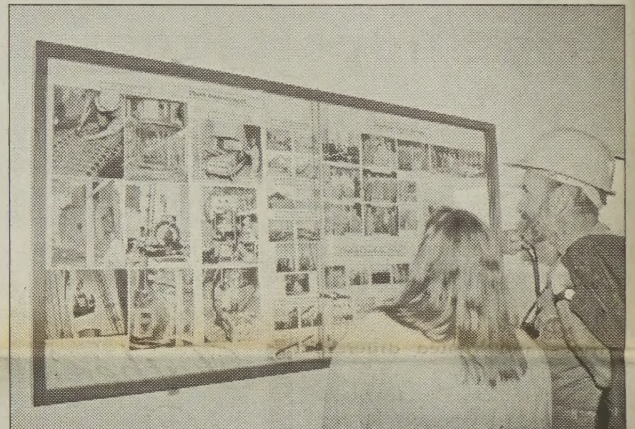

Palamarek also invited everyone to join in one of the many plant tours which continued through the afternoon.

LONGTIME PLANT EMPLOYEE Alf Fakeley, shown here with two of his grandsons, started work at the plant in the fall of 1948 and stayed 38 years until his retirement. Fakeley celebrated his 87th birthday Friday.

SALT FOR CANADA'S TABLES is boxed at the facility by a machine which forms the boxes, adds the pouring spout, fills and seals them, ready to be hauled off to supermarkets across western Canada. Tour participants got a first hand look at the process during their anniversary celebration visits.

HALL OF HISTORY -- Photos and clippings of the building and opening of the plant, workers and social events of earlier days and today's plant staff covered one wall of the area where Canadian Salt personnel and their huge crowd of visitors gathered for the anniversary celebrations.

School division looking to the stars

By Rhonda Noyce
St. Paul Journal

The local school division can only wait and see now if they are going to have enough students enrol this fall to meet their 1998/99 budget expectations.

"If all the stars line up, all of the staffing positions will be filled through attrition," says Secretary Treasurer Jean Champagne.

The St. Paul Education Regional Division No. 1 completed its budget projections for the impending school year to meet the minister's deadline of June 15. Because the division's budget is based on a per student allocation, there is no telling what could happen between now and this September.

So far, the school division needs a 3.2 full time equivalent (FTE) reduction in teaching staff. The division was in a similar position at this time last year, but when the new school year began, they ended up having to hire back 6.5 FTE positions.

the truck water filling facility, and putting together a list of infrastructure with age and potential replacement costs. Council agreed to reduce by one half a bill for work undertaken at the Agricultural Fair Grounds, to cover the material portion only.

The resignation of Don Isert from the Library Board was accepted with regret. It was noted that the library board is also seeking a new librarian as Michele Duczek is leaving her position at the end of July.

An initial $74,000 deficit was projected for the 1998/99 budget, but the division dipped into its equipment reserve to make up for the shortfall. The deficit mainly resulted from a shortage in the instruction block — $131,000. The surplus in transportation and operations and maintenance brought the deficit up to the $74,000 mark.

The division's total expenditures for the 1998/99 school year are almost $26 million.

Our country and our flag

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

You wouldn't believe this but I have a big wall calendar for 1998 in my office and it said that Sunday, June 14 was flag day. So all week I was excitedly looking forward to writing an article about our Canadian Flag.

Well ... upon research — guess what? June 14 is flag day in the United States. So to all you people who have come from the U.S., happy belated flag day. And ... to us Canadians — our flag day was February 15. In fact we celebrated flag day during National Citizenship Week of February 15 to February 21 of this year.

Our maple leaf flag was first flown in February 1965. It's a beautiful flag. Its design is simple but it is full of meaning. The red commemorates the blood shed by Canadians during World War 1 (1914 - 1918), and the white represents the snow. The points of the maple leaf represent each of the provinces and territories in our country of Canada.

If someone asked you to draw a picture of something that means "Canada", what would you choose? You might draw a map of Canada, a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer, or even a beaver or hockey player. But the easiest thing of all to draw is the Canadian flag. Try it.

Make the flag twice as long as it is high. Divide it into three parts, making the middle part a square. Leave the middle part white and draw a red maple leaf in it. Color the other two parts red. Now wasn't that easy!

Many years ago, in my elementary school days, I learned a song called "The Maple Leaf Forever". In those days we had another flag — it was really a "borrowed flag", because it had the influence of Britain in it.

Anyway, in the song "The Maple Leaf Forever", the words tell a little history. "On days of yore, from Britain's shore, Wolfe, the dauntless hero came, and planted firm Britannia's flag, on Canada's fair domain. Here may it wave, our boast, our pride, And joined in love together, The Thistle, Shamrock, Rose entwine, The Maple Leaf Forever! The Maple Leaf, our emblem dear, The Maple Leaf Forever! God save our Queen, and Heaven bless The Maple Leaf Forever." ... You see even though the maple leaf wasn't in the first flag, our forefathers saw the Maple Leaf as something that represented Canada.

So in 1965, after months of discussion, and many suggestions from Canadians across Canada, the Liberal Government of that day under Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson made the decision to officially present "The Canadian Flag". We were old enough as a country to have our own identity — hence our own flag.

Happy Father's Day

All the best to all the dads out there, as they look forward to their special day this weekend. Along with the socks, ties and good wishes, here's hoping they get some of the gifts they dream about...

How about a weekend without a tournament to drive their children to, without a team to coach or cheer on, when they can go fishing or play golf or take out their quad for a little tour in the country?

How about time to read a book, play computer games or do a crossword puzzle without the phone ringing or children interrupting? Or maybe just time to have a nice uninterrupted nap?

These things, of course, will come on their own in time, once the kids are grown and out on their own. And in the meantime, maybe Dad would rather be at a hockey or ball game than lying on the beach, or reading to his children than having a night out on the town. Love will do that to you.

Have a great day, Dads, and enjoy it in your favorite fashion.

LIONS CONTRIBUTE TO SCHOOL PROGRAM -- Denise Smereka, Wellness Day coordinator, gives a big Crusader thank you to Doug Bassett, who presented a $481 cheque toward sponsorship of the excellent Motivational Media Assemblies "Light the Torch" presentation in April.

We had enjoyed our short trip to the city of Lyon on the very fast T.G.V. — the French 'Bullet Train,' so we decided to take a longer jaunt to the Mediterranean city of Marseille. We had been told repeatedly that Marseille is known for its Bouillabaisse, that wonderful fish chowder, simmered in white wine and herbs. Four hours to Marseille, two hours to select a fine restaurant and enjoy our Bouillabaisse and four hours back to Paris. Sounded reasonable to us.

We enjoyed travelling on the train. The seats are comfortable with lots of leg and elbow room and of course the scenery is magnificent. Little farms, vineyards, flowering trees and shrubs, houses that looked decidedly like 'villas' and the closer we got to the Mediterranean, palm trees!

We were offered lunch — Duck Terrine and Smoked Duck Breast Fillet, Guinea Fowl in Mushroom Sauce with Braised Chestnut and Endive — the usual. We decided against lunching on the train as we were saving ourselves for the Bouillabaisse. (Also the fact that the price was 220 Francs or $55 a person helped make the decision easy.)

It was 3:00 o'clock when we got into 'Gare St. Charles' and went looking for a cafe. Anticipating a big, steaming bowl of thick chowder, we stepped out of the train station and into a very grubby part of the city. "Oh well," we said. "Train stations are always in old, dirty parts of cities. We'll just walk a ways until we find a better neighborhood."

We walked for nearly an hour and the city got more sleazy and the people got dirtier and stranger looking and the streets got narrower. We were and we went in and ordered. Marshel insisted on having a fish burger (fillet o' fish). As we ate, we made a pact to save ourselves from further humiliation, we would never reveal the details of this little excursion to anyone. Ever. (That agreement lasted about as long as it took us to get back to Paris.)

When we finished our delicious burgers and fries, I suggested we walk over to a palm tree I could see out a window, and take a picture. We needed something to show we had been on the Mediterranean. We snapped a couple of shots as we walked up to it. Then we looked over an old stone fence.

THE BETTER SIDE OF MARSEILLE

nearly walking back-to-back, our eyes shifting warily when we decided we had better hoof it back to the train station.

There was one little restaurant across from the station that we had rejected earlier as being not quite good enough. By the time we got back, it was looking much better. So we went over to it. Closed. It figures.

Back at the train station again, we were starting to feel very hungry. Breakfast was hours ago. We followed a little sign pointing to a restaurant and there it was. McDonalds! Four hours on a train to Marseille to eat a Big Mac? Visions of bowls of chowder swimming with succulent chunks of seafood vanished

There in front of us was one of the most beautiful cities on the Mediterranean. Wide, clean streets, sparkling white buildings, gleaming statuary, rows of exotic palm and olive trees with a glimpse of azure blue sea in the background. And building after building filled with restaurants with tall, wide windows and doors flung open invitingly to the gentle Mediterranean breeze.

Obviously, somebody, naming no names, led us out of the train station and literally onto the wrong side of the tracks. "Someday," Marshel said, "we are going to laugh about this."

We got back on the train and travelled four hours back to Paris. A total of eight hours on a train for a Mc burger!

Nutrition notes

By Shelley Miller-Hertes RD
Elk Point Health Centre

The title may make you think I'm talking about electricity, natural gas or the oil industry; but in this case I'm talking about food energy.

Energy requirements of an individual depend upon age, sex, weight and level of regular physical activity. The basic metabolic rate (BMR) is the amount of calories needed to maintain vital functions, such as circulation, respiration, digestion and temperature regulation at rest.

FACTORS AFFECTING BMR

1. Body composition — females have a 5 - 10% lower BMR than males due to a higher proportion of fat which is less active metabolically than lean body tissue. A physically active person has a 5% higher BMR than a sedentary individual, because they have a greater amount of lean body mass.

2. BMR is the highest during periods of rapid growth (eg. puberty) and then declines approximately 2% per decade during adulthood.

3. Physical state — undernutrition, starvation or extremely low calorie diets (400 - 800 calories/day) can decrease BMR by 20 - 30%. The body adapts to conserve energy, making weight loss more difficult.

4. Pregnancy — pregnancy can increase BMR

Energy — supply and demand

as much as 28% above that of a non-pregnant female.

HOW EXERCISE AFFECTS ENERGY EXPENDITURE

Exercise increases energy demands by:

1. requiring the body to regulate its temperature by releasing heat (eg. sweating).
2. making the heart and lungs work harder to get more oxygen to the working muscles via the blood.
3. increasing the rate of breathing, thus creating more carbon dioxide for the body to get rid of.

ENERGY BALANCE

Energy balance means Energy In (food) = Energy Out (energy expended); in this case we eat just enough food to provide the amount of energy our body needs. If we eat more food energy than we use, excess energy is stored as fat. This positive energy balance results in weight gain.

If we do not eat enough food energy to meet our energy needs, we have negative energy balance. The body must draw on its stores of carbohydrate, protein and fat to meet its energy demands. This results in weight loss.

To maintain ideal body weight you need to balance energy expenditure with calorie intake.

Six clubs compete in St. Paul District 4-H Heifer Show

Six 4-H clubs from north-east Alberta took part in the St. Paul District Heifer Show, held June 7 in Elk Point, with entrants coming from Hylo, Lac La Biche and Bonnyville to join district clubs from St. Paul, Goodridge and Elk Point for the event.

The day began with the Grooming competition, judged by Josie Pashulka. Two Elk Point 4-Hers took the trophies in the Junior competition, with first place going to Mallory Paquette and second to Kyle Kurek, while Mark Ference of Elk Point and Real Langevin of Goodridge received honorable mentions for an excellent effort. The Senior winners were both from Bonnyville, Deanna Dechaine of Bonnyville placing first, and Erin Murphy second.

Conformation judge John Wolfe gave a comprehensive explanation of judging procedures before all participants took their turn at judging four animals. Winners were Daniel Brundage of Goodridge, first, and Kyle Kurek, Elk Point, second in the Junior division, while Avery Murphy of Bonnyville placed first and Jason Boorse of St. Paul was second in the Senior category.

A total of 26 yearling heifers were shown, and were divided into three age classes for preliminary judging. Patricia Burdek, Lac La Biche, Marci Bintz, Elk Point, Erin Murphy, Bonnyville, Doug Laschowski, St. Paul, Jason Boorse, St. Paul and Coral Vandervoort, Goodridge brought their heifers back into the ring for the final round, with Doug Laschowski awarded the first place trophy and Marci Bintz receiving second.

Cow/calf pairs were divided into two-year-old and three-year-old classes, with Deanna Dechaine and Ryan Murphy, both of Bonnyville, Michael Fontaine of St. Paul and Joy Ambler of Goodridge coming back for the trophy round. Fontaine's three-year-old placed first in the category, with Miss Dechaine's two-year-old second.

Showmanship was judged by Josie Pashulka, who chose Real Langevin of Goodridge as the top Junior, with Kyle Kurek of Elk Point second, and honorable mentions going to Lisa Murphy of Bonnyville and Mark Ference of Elk Point.

Deanna Dechaine won the Senior category, with Erin Murphy second.

Herd competition was intense this year. Three groups competed in the Large Herd class, which involved a yearling, two-year-old with calf and three-year-old with calf. Taralee Babenek, Elk Point, showed the winning herd, while Paula Burdek, Lac La Biche, showed the second place herd. Seven groups consisting of a yearling, a two-year-old or three-year-old and calf or a two-year-old and three-year-old and their calves, competed in the Small Herd class, with Joy Ambler, whose three-year-old produced an adorable pair of twins this year, placed first and Deanna Dechaine placed second.

The two top yearlings and two top cow-calf pairs came back into the ring for the final and championship round of the day. Deanna Dechaine and her two-year-old cow-calf pair won the Supreme Championship banner and trophy, while Doug Laschowski's yearling received the Reserve Champion honors.

MC for the day was Irene Chamberland, while Hubert deMoissac acted as Ringmaster.

CORRECTION:

Our apologies for an error in last week's 4-H Show coverage. Kyle Kurek was mistakenly referred to as Cody Kurek, who is his brother. Sorry, boys.

RESERVE CHAMPION YEARLING was shown by Marci Bintz of Elk Point, who received her trophy from Ed Babenek.

JUNIOR GROOMING WINNER -- Mallory Paquette was presented with a trophy for one of the best groomed heifers in the show.

SECOND IN JUNIOR SHOWMANSHIP AND GROOMING -- Kyle Kurek took home a pair of trophies for his prowess at preparing an animal for show and showing it to the best advantage in the ring.

FGM remembers their past

Two very influential men in F. G. Miller High School's history were remembered at the reopening of the school and the rededication of its library.

Dr. F. G. Miller

Dr. Frederick Gustave Miller was born in Owen Sound, Ontario on December 29, 1884. Along with one of his brothers, he homesteaded in the Vermilion area, but in 1912 sold his land and went back east to begin medical training.

World War I began, and in 1915, Dr. Miller helped provide medical aid to our troops in France and forged a life-long friendship with Dr. A. G. Ross (the arena now bears his name). Upon Dr. Miller's return to Canada, he married Cora Emerson and returned to Montreal to complete his studies and internship. The year 1920 found Dr. Miller and his wife back in the Elk Point area where he set up a practice that would span 52 years. In 1922-23, Dr. Miller and Dr. Ross built, staffed and opened Elk Point's first hospital.

Quality education was very important to Dr. Miller. He was an active school board member and represented Elk Point on the St. Paul School Division. He played an integral part in the building of this school. Because of his efforts, in 1961 the new school was opened and dedicated to Dr. F. G. Miller. Students from grades 9 to 12 began to walk these halls, and eventually, grades 7 and 8 as well.

Dr. F. G. Miller actively participated in sports. In the winters he coached and sponsored hockey teams, and in the summers, baseball teams. He was involved in the town's first curling rink and was an avid curler until the age of 86. A golfer as well, Dr. Miller started a golf club and developed the golf course that is still in use today.

Dr. F. G. Miller left us a legacy of continuing education and dedication. His children and grandchildren attended school in Elk Point and they continue to support this school in various ways, one of which is the Dr. K. C. Miller Best All-Around Student Award.

R. E. Beattie

Mr. Robert Elmer Beattie was born in Owen Sound, Ontario, October 15, 1904.

Before teaching in Elk Point, he held positions in Ranfurly, Alberta (1937-1939) and Lomond, Alberta (1940-41). In 1941, Mr. Beattie began teaching in Elk Point and eventually became principal. He taught English, social studies, history, French and chemistry. As an educator, he dedicated his time and energy to the students of F. G. Miller High School until his retirement 26 years later, in 1967.

A library dedication was held in May of 1969. At a meeting of the Elk Point Home and School Association, Dr. F. G. Miller unveiled a plaque dedicating the library to Mr. Beattie.

Mr. Beattie and his wife remained in Elk Point after his retirement. He enjoyed golf and was active in the Elk Point community until his death on July 28, 1991.

In November of 1997, the library was moved to its present location; and on June 5, 1998, it was re-dedicated to Mr. R. E. Beattie. Mrs. Neva Beattie represented her husband at the library opening, reaffirming his past commitment to F. G. Miller Jr. /Sr. High School.

High School honored by return of alumni

By Denise Smereka
Librarian

F.G. Miller Jr./Sr. High School held its Grand Re-Opening on Friday, June 5, 1998 at 2:00 p.m. in the gymnasium. It was attended by all the present Crusaders, as well as by former alumni, staff, dignitaries and special guests. It was these people that made the day special. It was wonderful to see former Crusaders sifting through the yearbook display, finding their graduation photos down Alumni Hall, and reminiscing with each other about days gone by.

The former staff that attended were: Mr. Sid Holthe (alumna and teacher), Mrs. Denise Kissel, Mr. Lawrence Modin, Mrs. Margaret Modin (Secretary / Librarian), Mrs. Bev (Modin) Peterson (alumna and librarian), Mr. Albert Boratyniec, Mrs. Irene Miller, Mrs. Anna May Warren (Substitute), Mrs. Myrna Fedorus (alumna and teacher), and Mr. Don Conrad (alumnus and teacher).

Past Students' Union Presidents in attendance were: Leonard Uchman (1983), Candace (Ference) Hodder (1993), Walter Ference (1967), Wanda (Ference) Cochran (1987), Angel (Ference)

Zarowny (1988), Elaine (Johnston) Saskiw (1963), Leonard Demchuk (1968), Gail (Scraba) Farewell (1965), James Conrad (1962) and Don Conrad (1966).

The people responsible for keeping Crusader history alive (those who were former Wapiti Yearbook Editors) in attendance were: Kristen Kittlitz (1991 and 1992 editor), Denise Smereka (1982 editor), Val (Modin) Yeunker (1969 editor), Myrna (Seal) Lalande (1976 editor), and Michelle (Fedorus) Dargis (1981 editor).

Other alumni present were: Donald Zarowny (1965), Dr. K.C. Miller, Donna (Aarbo) Fedorus, Denise (Maas) Napier, Jean (Scraba) Edwards, Diane (Scraba) Anderson, Ray Danyluk, Carol (Habiak) Maas, Linda Ference, Jeremy Hodder, Isabelle Myshaniuk, Bev (Modin) and Ivan Peterson, Daniel Peterson, Tammy Dikeman, Donna Slywka, Heather (Miller) Bjornstad, Lisa (Gadowski) Nielsen, and Lawrence Ference.

Thanks as well to all the central office staff, board members, and the principals and staff from other regional schools for attending. Thanks for showing your support.

Seniors show off latest spring styles, Elk Point area's age 80-plus residents honored

BELL BOTTOMS WITH REAL BELLS, cap sleeves, plunging neckline and a mini brief-case were displayed by one lovely model, while another showed off a pleated print skirt and flattering straw hat, and a third modelled a moo-moo, complete with cowbell and horned hat at the hilarious Seniors Week Fashion Show last Friday at the Seniors Recreation Centre.

THE LATEST STYLE FOR THE PARENTS OF THE BRIDE included a suit with patch pockets, string tie and one-gallon hat for Dad and a flower covered gown with Pil box hat for Mom.

Elk Point and district residents aged 80 and over were honored during Seniors Week at a tea in their honor at the Seniors Recreation Centre.

Mayor Ed Buck, "still a few years away" from that category, brought greetings from the Town, while letters of congratulation were received from MLA Paul Langevin and MP Leon Benoit.

Hazel Hannah celebrated Farmers Day by reading a poem in honor of all the former farm wives in the audience.

Ten lovely models entertained with certainly the funniest fashion show of the season, with all the fashion terms, from cap sleeve to alligator bag taken literally in their imaginative attire.

Then it was down to more serious matters, as Margaret Modin asked for a moment of silence for those of their number who have recently passed away, and offered a scripture reading asking that we "rise in the presence of our elderly, and show your respect."

Sid Holthe presided over the presentation of certificates to a good number of Elk Point and district's 115 residents who are 80 years of age or over. He said attainment of a good age is "the reward for a lifetime of hard work, sharing and caring."

Along with one resident, Josephine Topilka, who recently celebrated her 102nd birthday, there are 19 residents aged between 90 and 100: Eric Burman, Glen Cinnamon, Claudia McGinnis, Martha Meger, Marion Smith, Ethel Whitlock, Neva Beattie, Walter Krucik, Annie Musijowski, Margaret Gibson, Barbara Lemecha, Stanley Yopyk, Edna Darling, Eva Nazarchuk, George Jacobson, Harry Phillips, Blanche Falconer, Gordon Havaruk and Nancy Woytowich. All those 90 and over received golden certificates.

Qualifying for silver certificates for those 80 to 89 were:

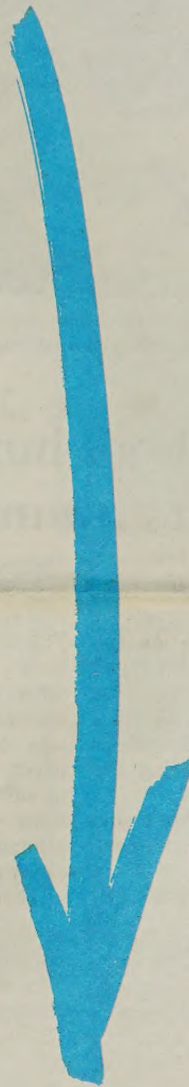

Doris Aarbo, Martin Aarbo, Pearl Anderson, Mary L. Bezpalko, Annie Bugera, John Bugera, Andrew Bugera, Rose Bugera, Bill Bugera, Mary Bugera, Leonard Berg, Bill Boyko, Tashka Buksa, Lena Cap, Andrew Dach, Harvey Dunham, Alf Fakeley (who celebrated his 87th birthday that day), Karl Heinemann, Irene Jacobson, Lena Kuziw, Rose Kozicky, Mary Krawchuk, Mike Kadutski, Mary Kalynchuk, Irene Magnusson, Alice Miller, Arthur Miller, Edith Mitchell, Minnie Moneta, Frank Moneta, Ecco Peterson, Violet McFadyen, Margaret Poitras, Mary Prusak, Rose Pankow, Vera Romanchuk, Sandra Russ, Nellie Ruzyski, Pete Ruzyski, Annie Sheplawy,

Paul Stepa, Vic Scott, Winnie Shepherd, Lilly Sass, Annie Culford, Ethel Boothman, Margaret Hall, Myrtle MacLellan, Tony Sheplawy, Etta Scott, Minnie Boos, Rose

For one thing, our rates are lower.

At Alberta Power, we're always looking for more efficient ways of working and better ways to serve you. The past five years alone have brought many changes. New technologies. Improved procedures. At the same time, our rates have dropped. At Alberta Power, the price of electricity has not increased since 1993. In fact, this year alone the price you pay for electricity has dropped by more than 8%.

High School honored by return of alumni

The people named above were those who signed the guest book. If there are any other alumni and former staff out there that attended the Grand Re-Opening, sorry we missed your names, but thanks for coming and making this day a great success.

There are others we would like to acknowledge and thank for helping to make the Grand Re-Opening a success. They are:

Corrine Lowe-Corrine was the grade 11 student that drew the picture of the school that appeared on the invitations. Deanna and Gordon Fakeley, Ray and Carol Hellquist, Jim and Cheri Lindquist, Lawrence and Maureen Ference, Natalie and Alex Yarmuch, Donna Gulayec, Carmen Spitzer, Mike O'Neill, the UCWL Rummage Store and Verona Lea Flanders for donating Crusader memorabilia for the display and/or updating the missing yearbooks. These displays were really appreciated by visitors, as well as the Wapiti Archives in the library.

Extra special thanks to Mrs. Neva Beattie and Dr. K.C. Miller for being present at the rededication of the R.E. Beattie Library. It was truly wonderful to have both these people at the commemorative ceremony. The original dedication of the library occurred in May of 1969 where Dr. F.G. Miller dedicated the library to R.E. Beattie who was also there to witness the event. Thanks to Mrs. Beattie as well for her generous donations which allowed us to reframe a few photo and biography of her husband.

Thanks to Mrs. Margaret Modin for helping to fill in the gap in the R.E. Beattie Library history. There were seven, not four, people who were involved in operating the library through the years. They were, in chronological order:

Those who succeed are invariably those who have a thirst for knowledge, go out and secure their knowledge in one way or another, and then put it to work. A specific, concrete and definite aim in life may be attained step by step until the final milestone is reached, not by doing as one pleases, but by doing as one chooses.

— R. E. Beattie, BA
Excerpt: The Principal's Message
Wapiti Yearbook, 1976

Margaret Modin (secretary and library cataloguing), Bev (Modin) Peterson, Rilla Higgins, Monica (Schuhmacher) Buksa, Sharon Kuhn, Diana Courtier, and Denise Smereka. Ron Onusko also catalogued books for the library through the years.

Finally the Crusaders would like to thank Donna Slywka, Lisa Nielsen, and Barb Croteau for all the volunteer work they did making the common area vibrant and alive. You did a great job ladies!

Grade 5 enjoys multicultural meal

Elk Point Elementary's Grade 5 students didn't bring their brown bags and lunch kits along to school last Thursday. Instead, they dined from an overwhelming array of foods spanning cultures from around the world.

Parents drew on their cultural heritage and culinary skills to produce a meal featuring everything from borscht to peanut brittle, and the youngsters tried a little of everything. Along with such local favorites as three varieties each of pyrogies, meatballs and nalesnyky, they tasted such delicacies as falafel, tourtiere and dried moose meat, lasagna and creamed codfish. Then came dessert -- another groaning table full, with everything from cookies to cakes as a sweet finish to the meal.

Parents came to the school laden with wrapped dishes, helped to serve up the food and then stayed to enjoy the meal and to join their children in trying out some interesting new foods from other cultures.

Minor Ball news

Sox bullpen is put to the ultimate test

By Doug Bassett
Elk Point Minor Ball

Wild throws or fumbles. In Baseball these are known as errors. Errors can be killers on pitchers, as the Sox chucker, Jon Yake found out on a hot and humid Thursday night, with Wainwright in town and the Sox in a jam early into the second inning. Six errors and the Sox were down by five runs. But these guys are competitors and they refuse to lie down for any team, bouncing back to within three runs in the fifth inning with a rally, after Tyler Warawa connected with a beauty in-the-park home run. Preston "Krank" Krankowski was given the player of the game, by the Sox Number One Fan, Paul Bepalko, when he hit the ground sliding to make a great catch in centre field, saving two runs in the top of the seventh. Then at the plate, in the bottom of the seventh, "Krank" drove a one bouncer over the fence for a ground rule double, driving in two runs to close the gap to one run. With two ducks on the pond and two out, the Sox failed to drive them in, losing the game by only one run, that once seemed out of reach.

Maybe it was the attempts to dislodge the ball at home plate, or the few collisions on the baseline, or just the competitiveness of the team that hates to lose, or was it the heat of the sticky night? Whatever the reason, the game did become a little testy toward the end, with the players jeering at each other and the base coaches, and the Sox waiting for their next opportunity to meet the boys from the south to even up the score.

A busy weekend for the Sox who played four games in two days and the ultimate test on the Sox bullpen of Ballas, Zarowny, Warawa, Bassett and Yake. The league decided to move the final tournament up by one weekend so that players, many of them in Grade 12, could study for school final exams. The basic aim of the league is practice for provincials, with round robin qualifying play starting in two weeks' time. It was a good weekend for the boys, who hit the ball well and made some well-rehearsed plays in the field, but lost out to the "AA" team from Bonnyville in the semi-final Sunday afternoon by two runs. Sunday night all the boys had sore arms and were ready for some time off to heal with their A535 and Tiger Balm.

In other ball action this past week, Lois Mutch and the Bantam Boys lost to Cold Lake by one run Monday night. This weekend the Bantam Boys are in Bonnyville for the league final.

Rick Bilak's Bantam Girls lost to Cold Lake and defeated Bonnyville. This coming weekend they will be in league final in Cold Lake.

Rick Bilak, who also coaches the Peewee Boys, hosted their windup tournament this past weekend in Elk Point and although his team did not make it to the finals, the tournament went well with ten teams and Cold Lake #2 winning the A Final.

Darrell Wickham's Mosquitoes defeated Bonnyville in Bonnyville this past week, then lost to St. Paul at home. This coming weekend they will be in Cold Lake South for their final season tournament.

Sorry that I don't have any bushwhacker stories for you this week, things have been a little quiet in the gossip department, but my ears are always open! Who is going to win the Stanley Cup? Who cares? This thing has been dragged on long enough. Some guys have been golfing for three months already. Enough is enough, please end this thing, tonight!

You know the only team to come back from a three game deficit in the finals? You guessed it, the one, the only, the greatest team ever, my Maple Leafs!

Last but not least, a big happy birthday to the Sox pitcher, Tyson Ballas, who may have more than just a sore arm today, as he celebrated his 18th birthday yesterday.

What's news at the library?

I'm going to miss you when I'm gone -- honest!

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

By now you may have heard that I am leaving the library, and Elk Point, and Alberta, and even Canada. It's true. I have accepted a position in the Bahamas (yes, really) and will be leaving at the end of July. The job is an exciting opportunity to further stretch my professional skills (and I won't have to deal with -35C winters). But while I'm excited about the changes in my life, I am also a little bit sad about leaving a place where I have had some really great times. With these sentiments in mind, I offer you my final top ten list:

Top Ten List of Things I'm Gonna Miss About Elk Point:

1. Going to the Alberta Library Conference in Jasper. Not only did I always have a great time, but I came away each year with lots of ideas and information (and I got to hear one of my favorite mystery writers, L.R. Wright, one year).
2. The Elk Point Community Choir. For four years I got to do something I love to do (sing) with a bunch of people who felt the same way. Plus the choir's Christmas recording made a wonderful present for every member of my family.

3. Storytime. By doing the storytime program I became acquainted with so many wonderful children's books and it was always a real thrill when the kids had a great time.

4. The generosity of the people of Elk Point who were always willing to offer a ride when the weather was miserable and shared the bounty of their gardens (by the way, Iryne, thanks so much for the beet pickles, they're wonderful).

5. The staff at the Northern Lights Library System who are some of the best (and most fun) people I have ever worked with.

6. Watching the Canada Day Parade from the best seats in town (the lawn in front of the library).

7. The Summer Reading Program. Each year was a different challenge and always a wonderful experience.

8. Lunch on Thursdays with the gang (and you know who you are).

9. Discussing mysteries with the many mystery readers here in town. I even discovered a few new authors to add to my list of favorites.

10. The autonomy of running a library (although after four and a half years of being in charge, I'm willing to let someone else be the boss).

CPCA wagons - and three old timers - roll in Dewberry

Two days of Canadian Professional Chuckwagon Association races in Dewberry this weekend saw record crowds on hand to watch 41 wagons compete in 14 heats in each of two performances.

Leo Tournier of Duck Lake, SK smoked around the track under the American Express tarp in Sunday's fastest time of 1:09.70 to add to his 1:12.03 Saturday night run for the show championship. Second place went to Dennis MacGillivray with the Roberge Trucking rig, whose two day total was just over a quarter of a second slower than Tournier.

Rookie driver Doug Irvine of Lindbergh, who finished tenth overall for the meet, won the Best Dressed Outfit trophy. Luke Tournier won the Best Barrelling award, while Lane MacGillivray was the Best Outrider of the meet. Jim Knight won the Hard Luck Driver award.

A rookie outrider made his hometown debut this weekend. David Bensmiller is the son of former CPCA driver and two-time Calgary Stampede champion Buddy Bensmiller and grandson of two longtime veteran Northern Chuckwagon Association drivers, Allen Smith and the late Allan Bensmiller.

Local competitor Bruce Etherington had two turns in the spotlight, winning the Heavy Horse Pull Sunday morning, and returning a few hours later to win the Old Time Wagon Race.

This crowd pleasing novelty event involved a start with the horses tied to the sides of the wagon, harness piled on the ground, and the drivers and outriders rolled up in blankets. At the sound of the horn, they leaped to their feet, flung their blankets into the wagon, and hurried to harness their team, saddle the outriding horses and jump aboard, ready to make a rather slow figure eight around the barrels and head off down the track. Returning to the infield, they had to bring their wagons to a halt and start a fire in their makeshift stove.

Etherington's outriders were former Calgary Stampede chuckwagon champion Bruce Craige and former outrider Bruce Goldsmith.

DEWBERRY CHUCKWAGON CHAMP Leo Tournier and his outriders Barclay Swenson (left) and Doug Irvine accept their trophy from Maurice Garnier. Irvine also won a trophy for his own wagon outfit, which was named Best Dressed.

ROOKIE DRIVER AND OTRIDER -- Doug Irvine (right) has taken the reins for his first year as a driver on the CPCA circuit, and is sponsored by B & R Eckels. Kyle Lawrence, who outrides for Doug, is also new at the job but doing very well.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Tyler Warawa

Birthday: May 9, 1980

Age: 18

Height: 5'11"

Weight: 150 lbs.

Nickname: Motor Mouth

Position: Shortstop, pitcher

Favorite player: Ken Griffey Jr.

A great competitor and team captain, Tyler is full of chatter and can always be heard talking it up for his team or annoying the other teams. Perfect at his position on shortstop, always covering up second or third, not too many players can move right or left as quick, or dive for grounders as well as Tyler. With a batting average of .535, the Sox clean up man is second on the team in RBIs with 18 for the year. If this guy goes down, he goes down swinging.

Following the Circuit

By Cathy Ockerman and Vicki Brooker

Congratulations to Doug Irvine on his first chuckwagon trophy win this weekend in Dewberry, a Best Dressed award going to his good looking B & R Eckels outfit.

George Stanley is another local driver to watch for George lives at Frog Lake and has been racing since 1987. In 1997 he was voted Most Sportsmanlike Driver and received the Harold Schiller Award.

Ervin Quinney, also from Frog Lake, is another award-winning driver. In 1992 he was the Top Rookie Driver, and in 1993, Most Sportsmanlike Driver.

After Prince Albert and Dewberry shows, Ervin sits 24th in the standings and George is 25th.

The CPCA top drivers after two shows are: 1. Wayne Knight, 2. Dennis McGilvery, 3. Leo Tournier, 4. Ray Mitsuing, 5. Luke Tournier, 6. Grant Preece, 7. Bert Croteau, 8. Roger Moore, 9. Jim Knight, 10. Rod Salmond, 11. Larry McEwen, 12. Doug Irvine, 13.

Ross Knight, 14. Bruce Morin, 15. Gary Gorst and 16. Ken McGonigle.

This weekend the wagons run in Wainwright, June 19, 20 and 21. Don't miss all this great action!
